Michael Tschenett appointed new Managing Director of alkus AG

Liechtenstein company gives top role to an internationally experienced formwork and sales specialist alkus AG based in Vaduz, Liechtenstein, is well known in the construction industry for its alkus® solid plastic panel. Michael Tschenett, an experienced formwork and sales specialist, will assume the role of Managing Director on 1 September 2019. He is taking over the general management reins from Elvis Kaljic, who left the company on 30 June 2019.

The 38-year-old Tschenett has spent the past decade working for an internationally recognised special formwork manufacturer, where he held the role of General Sales Manager with signatory powers. As the head of alkus AG, he wants to further expand the company's international business and set new sales initiatives.

“With Michael Tschenett and his management and sales experience, his international networks and his technical know-how, we are convinced that we can offer added value not only to our customers and partners but also to the entire industry,” says Guido Wille-Minicus, Member of the Administrative Board alkus AG. “The entire alkus team is looking forward to the challenges ahead and is highly motivated.”
